• Scattered showers and possibly a thunderstorm will push onshore in the coastal counties. The moistening onshore flow may contain brief heavy downpours. More persistent, but localized heavy rain may develop over portions of Brevard, Indian River and Saint Lucie counties this morning. In addition, gusty winds up to 35 mph will be possible near the circulation center, primarily in Indian River and Saint Lucie counties. Then the focus for showers and isolated storms will move to the interior counties this afternoon. High temperatures this afternoon will be in the middle to upper 80s, but near 90 degrees for a few inland spots.
